Cliff face museum project scrapped after extra £15million 'wake-up call'

SHELVED!

by Michael Cox

southend@yellowad.co.uk

A MULTI-MILLION pound project for a Thames Estuary museum on Southend seafront has been scrapped due to rising costs, Southend Council has revealed.

The museum was intended to be built on the cliffs at Western Esplanade and called the Thames Estuary Experience.

The council had estimated the project would cost £40million but a spokesman said that an independent review by architects had found that a building in that location would now cost around £55m.

Hawkins Brown also confirmed that the existing museum plans "would not deliver what was required".

Cllr Lesley Salter described the £15m estimated cost increase as an "unpleasant but necessary wake-up call".

She said: "It demonstrated to us that we just cannot justify proceeding with this particular plan.

"Our aspiration to provide a world-class museum in the town, showcasing the Thames Estuary's rich heritage and contribution to the history of Britain, remains unaltered. But not in this location and not with this price tag."

The cabinet member for culture said funding for the museum would have to be raised by a board of trustees.

The museum is intended to house finds from the shipwreck of the London warship, which sunk near the current end of Southend Pier following an explosion in March 1665. It would also contain artefacts from the tomb of a Saxon king, dubbed the Prittlewell Prince, discovered after archaeologists excavated Priory Crescent in 2003.

DEPUTY LEADER: James Courtenay

Deputy council leader James Courtenay called for the museum to form part of the regeneration of Southend High Street.

He said: "The proposed site on the cliffs has been around for a while now, but times have changed and so have the town's priorities.

"Personally, I would like to see the museum form part of the regeneration of our High Street, which is going to have to become a lot more mixed-use in future, rather than being so strongly dominated by retail, which is increasingly becoming an online sector.

"Diversifying the use of units on the High Street is a key feature of the council's Southend Central Area Action Plan, so we already have policy in place that would support increased cultural use of the High Street."

An exhibition showcasing some artefacts from the London area on show at the town's Central Museum until July.

Cllr Courtenay added: "It is clear that we have a series of compelling stories to tell and anyone who has seen the current London Shipwreck exhibition in Central Museum will appreciate the quality of offer that we are capable of delivering.

"We now need to review our options and come up with a solution that is right for the town, supports its economy and is financially sustainable."

The deputy leader of the Labour group on Southend Council, Cllr Anne Jones, told the YA she was delighted that the scheme had been shelved.

She said: "I'm looking forward to engaging in dialogue and discussion with residents and interest groups and ensuring that this heritage and legacy is properly honoured. It is imperative that the views of the public are considered."

Wards merry-go-round to provide mental health beds

A CAMPAIGN group has expressed concern about plans that will lead to hospital wards being relocated across south Essex.

At a full council meeting last week, Southend councillors supported the investment of £1.5million into a new St Luke's health centre on Pantile Avenue, Southend.

Under NHS proposals to facilitate the St Luke's development, the Cumberlege Intermediate Care Centre (CICC) would be temporarily relocated to Rochford Hospital's Maple Ward next February.

To free up sufficient beds on Maple Ward, which cares for dementia sufferers, new patients will be treated at Thurrock Hospital.

The plans will also see 16-20 extra adult mental health inpatient beds on the Basildon Hospital Mental Health Unit to tackle a rise in demand.

The CICC provides rehabilitation services for older people and the Save Southend NHS campaign group has concerns about the plans to move this service to Rochford Hospital in a clinical setting.

At the council meeting, councillors also supported NHS requests to defer public consultation on the plans.

Save Southend NHS secretary, Mike Fieldhouse, backed a full consultation and said: "Rochford Hospital does not and cannot provide the residential domestic setting which is currently a feature of CICC.

"Family and friends will visit people who are supposed to be on a pathway to return to their homes only to find that they are in a very different, inappropriate environment.

"The NHS says these are temporary moves but there's no plan to bring these facilities back where they are needed."

Let's Make Life Easy

Are gangs using your kids to move drugs and cash?

by Michael Cox

southend@yellowad.co.uk

A CAMPAIGN has been launched to encourage parents to be aware of any signs that their child is involved in drug dealing and exploitation.

Set up by Southend Council and Essex Police, the initiative asks parents: 'Who's controlling your child?'

A council spokesman said it is in response to the issue of county line gangs using children to move drugs and money in and out of cities and large towns.

Called #SeeTheSigns, the campaign also urges parents and carers to find out more about how these criminal groups operate.

Cllr Helen Boyd, cabinet member for children and learning, said: "There is no one type of child that is being targeted, and this campaign highlights that fact that all parents need to be aware of this issue."

"We hope that in giving parents as much information as we can about the issue, and its warning signs, as well as a supportive ear for anyone who has any concerns whatsoever, that we can protect our borough's children."

CAMPAIGN: PCs Marc Cann and Cameron Haggie with Cllrs Helen Boyd and Mark Flewitt at The Forum Southend

"I would like to firmly state that our professional specialist teams treat all children as victims first."

She called for anyone worried that their child is being exploited by gangs or at risk to call the council.

The council said that children involved are more likely to say that they are "running a line" "going Cunch" or "Going O.T.", which stands for over there, out there or outta town.

Chief Inspector Neil Pudney, district commander for Southend, said: "Young people can fall into gang lifestyles in different ways but vigilant and loving parents can spot issues and get help before they develop."

"Gangs recruit young people by portraying a glamorous lifestyle but the reality is far different; you will be at risk of serious injury, arrest or having to commit awful acts of violence.

"It is not worth it and we won't tolerate it in Essex."

Cllr Mark Flewitt, cabinet member for public protection, added: "Southend is facing the same issues as many other towns across the country, and is taking firm action."

"Our highly trained specialists are working extremely closely with the police and other agencies to make Southend as difficult as we possibly can for these gangs to operate."

For advice and more about the campaign, visit www.southend.gov.uk/SeeTheSigns.

Potential signs to look for of children in potential gang involvement include:

- Persistently going missing from school or home and/or being found out-of-area.
- Unexplained acquisition of money, clothes or mobile phones.
- Excessive receipt of texts/phone calls and/or having multiple handsets.
- Relationships with controlling/older individuals or groups.
- Leaving home without explanation.
- Suspicion of physical assault/unexplained injuries.

Moves to free up beds for mental health patients

A report produced earlier this month for Southend Council's people's scrutiny committee, which referred the plans to full council, said work on the CICC to accommodate the St Luke's GP health centre had been stopped due to "concerns for the safety of CICC patients".

It added that £1.5million NHS cash for the hub would be lost if temporary accommodation for the CICC was not found by February 25.

The transfer of new patients from Maple Ward to Thurrock is set to begin straight away, with the extra adult mental health inpatient beds due to be available at Basildon at the start of December.

The St Luke's GP surgery has been operating out of a temporary building and its GP lead Sharon Hadley was delighted to see the development going ahead.

She said: "We will be able to provide a better service for our patients in a modern environment. The new centre will provide a major boost to the area and open up further possibilities to support the health and wellbeing of the residents in St Luke's."

Cllr Lesley Salter, cabinet member for healthy communities and wellbeing, added: "We are committed to supporting people in the community to keep them well, ensuring that wherever possible, they can live independent lives in their community. This is fantastic news for local NHS services and the population of St Luke's who will benefit from the new health centre for many years."

Responding to the Save Southend NHS concerns, Cathy Gritzner, interim accountable officer for Southend CCG and Castle Point and Rochford CCG, said no decision on any permanent changes would be made until an engagement process is undertaken to understand the implications.

She said: "These changes are temporary to ensure patients continue to receive safe, effective care."

"Nearly £200,000 will be spent on reshaping Maple Ward so that it is wholly suited to being an intermediate care facility to provide a quality of accommodation that far exceeds the current environment in the CICC."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Cash grants up for grabs to hold events

FUNDING has been made available to help set up events and activities in Southend.

Two funding pots have been set up and will cater for different types of events and projects, from cultural and wellbeing events, to night-time safety and support services.

The council said events and projects must be part-funded and all applications will be reviewed by council officers, with the winners announced by November 20.

Projects must be delivered by the end of June and anyone interested can bid by visiting www.southend.gov.uk/smallgrants.

Workshops to help carers get active

WORKSHOPS are being put on for carers to help them be more active.

Sport For Confidence has been commissioned by Southend Council and NHS Southend Clinical Commissioning Group to deliver 10 workshops for carers and the individuals they support.

They will be run across the borough and attendees will be asked to suggest what needs to happen to support them to be more physically active.

For more information about the workshops or to register interest contact Lucy Goldup at lucy@sportforconfidence.com.

Myxomatosis found in hares for first time

MYXOMATOSIS in hares has been recorded in Essex for the first time

The disease, which is caused by the myxoma virus, was introduced into Australia in 1950 in an attempt to control the rabbit population.

The disease first reached the UK in 1953, where it was originally considered an effective rabbit bio-control measure, before 99 per cent of rabbits were killed by the disease in just three years and the intentional introduction was banned.

The disease is spread by direct contact with an infected animal or from biting insects and in rabbits they usually die within 14 days of contracting the disease, developing skin tumours, blindness, fatigue and fever.

The myxomatosis virus is known for its ability to mutate from year to year.

However, this is the first time it has ever mutated into another species.

The last few weeks have seen several cases of hares suffering with the disease or found dead in Suffolk and Norfolk, but now the first case in Essex has been recorded, near Halstead.

Darren Tansley, of Essex Wildlife Trust, said: "Hares have suffered from an 80 per cent decline since the late 19th century and their population is not as robust as rabbits.

"Over time many rabbits develop a resistance to the disease, however there won't be any resistance in hares yet so this outbreak could be extremely detrimental.

"If you see a hare acting unusually or displaying any possible signs, please send your records to Essex Wildlife Trust on ecords@essexwt.org.uk, with a photo if possible, so the spread of this disease can be monitored".

Essex Wildlife Trust will send all of the records through to the University of East Anglia, which is leading the research on this subject.

Hares can be identified from rabbits by their:

- Longer ears with distinctive black-tips.
- Considerably larger in size than rabbits, with long, powerful legs.
- Golden-brown colouring with large golden eyes.

WORLD AT THEIR FEET: BA (Honours) film and television production graduates celebrate with lecturer Tony Sweeney, third from right

Graduates urged to chase their dreams

DEGREE students from South Essex College celebrated their graduation last week.

The college's University Centre students collected their awards at a graduation ceremony at the Cliffs Pavilion in Westcliff.

The event saw more than 200 students receive their diplomas in subjects such as graphic design, film and television production, and forensic investigation.

Royal Air Force pilot Mandy Hickson, the only female pilot on her Front Line Tornado Squadron, handed out the awards and gave a speech to the graduates.

She told them: "Life will throw challenges at you but there's always going to be a way to get where you want to be. Take the odd knock but find a pathway to reach your goal."

"Think about what you love doing, if you can find a career that matches the skills you enjoy then you'll never have to work. Have dreams, believe in them and put them into action."

Angela O'Donoghue, college principal and chief executive, said: "This event is a real highlight in the calendar. It's an opportunity for us to celebrate and recognise the success of our students. They have faced the intellectual challenge of advanced higher level study and succeeded."

Community safety officers support teams tackling antisocial behaviour

A TEAM of council officers tackling rough sleeping and antisocial behaviour on Southend High Street have started work.

The six community safety officers will support police and other agencies in central Southend.

A council spokesman said the team will engage with rough sleepers, report antisocial behaviour and help with developing plans to address it.

He added that an interim team is in place while a process to recruit a permanent team is ongoing.

Cllr James Courtenay, deputy leader of the council, said: "We cannot solve all the issues we face in the town centre overnight, but we know that local people and businesses want to see a more visible presence in central Southend-on-Sea.

"These new officers will support the important activity already under way by police officers and BID street rangers and will provide increased reassurance and uniformed support and presence across the entire week."

The council said a campaign is set to start at the end of the month which will encourage shoppers to donate to charity rather than to beggars.

Council to take in three child refugees a year

by Steve Shaw

Local democracy reporter

A PLEDGE by Southend Council to give sanctuary to three child refugees a year was met with a round of applause in the council chamber.

It was made at Full Council last week after a Syrian refugee, who lives in Southend, asked councillors to join the Our Turn refugee campaign, which calls on councils to take in three child refugees per year for the next 10 years in a bid to bring 10,000 to the UK.

She said: "I am a 15-year-old refugee from Aleppo in Syria and I have been welcomed and cared for in Southend over the last two years because of a decision made in this room not long before that. I cannot tell you how grateful I am for this welcome.

"A little over three years ago, Alan Kurdi, a three-year-old Syrian refugee, drowned because he had no safe and legal route to sanctuary in Europe. The lives of more than 9,000 people fleeing war and persecution have been lost in the Mediterranean since that little boy's death.

"The Archdeacon of Southend, the Rabbi of the Southend and District Reform Synagogue, the Imam of the UKIM Southend Mosque, as well as 42 other leaders of faith have signed an open letter calling for this council to pledge to give sanctuary to three child refugees for the next ten years. Will you give your backing to this campaign, ensuring Southend's reputation of being a compassionate and welcoming place continues to grow?"

Cllr Helen Boyd, cabinet member for children and learning, told the council it will back the pledge if Government funds the campaign to bring 10,000 child refugees to the UK.

She said: "This scheme has seen increasing numbers of child refugees given a home and the regional approach was put in place with the full support of cabinet.

"Notwithstanding that existing commitment, we will support the campaign to give sanctuary to three child refugees per year."

New youth mayor and deputy elected

SOUTHEND has a new youth mayor and deputy mayor.

Marco Mann, 17, who attends Southend High School for Boys, was elected youth mayor by members of Southend Youth Council.

Amy Burdett, also 17, who attends Southend High School for Girls, was elected deputy youth mayor.

The team are aiming to build upon the work of the previous youth mayor, Maise Riley and deputy youth mayor, Isreal Genius, on a campaign to improve mental health awareness and provision for young people in Southend.

Marco said: "As youth mayor, my ambition is to make youth council sessions better for everyone."

"We are in need of new members, and it is very important to make changes to meetings and to make them more of a social event."

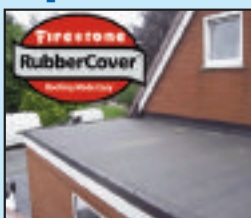

"As the council faces new challenges in the High Street, I want to ensure that the youth council is proactive."

"I want to work closely with the council as they tackle these issues, ensuring that the voice of young people in Southend is represented every step of the way."

TEAM: Amy Burdett and Marco Mann, with Mayor of Southend Cllr Derek Jarvis and Mayoress Valerie Jarvis

Hidden agenda to build on cliff face site

AFTER their capitulation over the seafont carbuncle pretending to be a museum, Southend Borough Council is probably labouring under the impression that SKIPP has no further interest in the future of the cliffs.

We wish to put on record that this could not be further from the truth. Our campaign to scrap the monstrosity, though originating from our desire to see a Saxon Museum adjacent to the Saxon Kings burial ground, was also a campaign to save our town's beautiful cliff gardens from the horrendous concrete and steel hell that the council has planned for them.

So it is with dismay that we read the council's latest statement regarding the cliff slip site and its proposal to build residential properties instead.

Obviously this doesn't come as a surprise to SKIPP; after all we have been saying for years that the council has a hidden agenda to build on the whole cliff face from the Esplanade Pub to the Cliffs Pavilion and this latest development confirms that we were right.

Therefore, we put the council on notice that we will fight any and all development on the cliffs; we will fight them on the beaches, we will fight them on the cliff face, we shall never surrender.

Work on potholes set to start very soon

THERE have been several comments recently regarding the poor condition of the road surface on part of Orchard Grove within Eastwood.

Certain individuals have taken to using this issue as a political football and commented that the road is becoming impassable (a gross exaggeration) and that the sitting councillors simply don't care.

Cllrs Flewitt, McGlone and myself have been pressing the Highways Department for some time to carry out the necessary resurfacing work.

As an interim measure a large number of small potholes were filled during the summer with St Laurence Ward councillors being advised that full resurfacing work would take place in late September/October.

Whilst contractor problems have subsequently pushed the start date back by a few weeks, I am pleased to see that there are now roadworks information signs in place with a commencement date of 22/11/18.

A letter updating those affected is due to be sent shortly. However, residents are more than welcome to contact us if they require any clarification.

*Councillor Steve Buckley
St Laurence Ward*

Paddocks: where is the money coming from?

CASTLE Point Labour has concerns about the way Castle Point Council is handling the proposed changes to the Paddocks.

Minutes from the council's agenda state that the Paddocks will cost £4.1million to reconfigure or £4.3m to rebuild.

What they do not comment on is the lack of spending on renovation and maintenance of the building they are responsible for.

The council produced a 20-year plan to maintain the Paddocks.

After spending public money to produce this report they promptly ignored it and allowed the hall to deteriorate.

Given this lack of investment, and the poor condition parts of it are in, is it any surprise that the general public are not as keen to use the hall?

Also, given that other venues in the area are available at a fraction of the price is it any wonder it is underutilised?

We have concerns that prices charged for use of the Paddocks have been kept high. Investment in maintenance has been deliberately kept low.

Now they are proposing to rebuild a hall on site at the cost of £4.3m. Graham Bracci, of Canvey's Green Belt Campaign, points out that a similar hall in Wisbech was built for a quarter of this price.

Castle Point Council has less than £6m in its reserves. We are reminded of the previous council's minutes on the Paddocks, where they clearly state: "the construction of a new community centre will be dependant on 'enabling development' on other parts of the site."

The council seems ambiguous about where the money will come from to improve the Paddocks.

We strongly believe that the Paddocks and its grounds is a community site and should not become a commercial or residential area (which would mean a loss of green land or car parking).

We do not want to see charges placed on car parking, in effect profiteering off the backs of the sick and elderly who use the health centre.

If the council had invested in maintaining the Paddocks, it is more likely that the hall would be used more regularly, becoming profitable and contributing to public finances.

Being one of the largest halls in the area it is easy to see how it should be a desirable and well used venue for retirement parties and other celebratory functions.

A great number of islanders are getting involved in the Save the Paddocks Campaign. We hope the council will listen to them and make the right choices.

*Joe Cooke
Castle Point Labour, Benfleet*

COLUMNIST: ON THE CASE - BY EDWARD CASE

Smoke and mirrors

IT'S 18 years since my last On The Case column for the YA and a lot has happened since those pre social media, pre 9/11, pre recession, pre ISIS, pre Brexit, pre Trump days.

So where to start? Well it has to be the one thing that has managed to split the nation almost, but not quite, down the middle and polarised opinion in a way unseen in most of our lifetimes.

It's more than two years since David Cameron's roll of the political dice came up snake eyes and Britain voted to leave the European Union. Yet today the population – and even politicians – are still being referred to first and foremost as Leavers or Remainers.

I have no problem admitting that I voted to remain – not because I believe in the EU. I've felt for a long time that it's doomed to fail, run as it is by a junta of unelected bureaucrats.

No, I voted against my better judgement because I've seen how industry jettisons people at the slightest mention of an economic blip and I wouldn't wish that on anyone again.

But how any of us voted should have become irrelevant from the moment the result was announced. That's democracy, something we are meant to value as so many other people in the world are not afforded the privilege.

But it's amazing how the principle of democracy is suddenly treated as an inconvenient technicality, not least amongst the people we trust to run our country, when a result doesn't go their way.

Since the vote, not quite half of us appear to have come down with a nasty dose of Sturgeon disease, stamping our little feet and insisting on referendum re-runs or a penalty shootout.

Our own Prime Minister, with behind the scenes machinations from her demonic "familiar", senior civil servant Olly Robbins, has done her best to scupper our exit from Europe, while blithely insisting she is delivering the Brexit the country voted for. She's not and I'm starting to think it's deliberate. Surely she can't be that incompetent.

As much as I despise everything he stands for, could you imagine Donald Trump taking this silliness from Messieurs Barnier, Juncker and Tusk? They wouldn't last five minutes.

It's not just those that voted to leave the EU who are being cheated, it's democracy itself that's losing out.

And that's something that should concern all of us.

HAIRY BIKERS BRING CUISINE TO CLIFFS

by Lewis Berrill

features@yellowad.co.uk

BUCKLE up and prepare for the tastiest ride of your life – The Hairy Bikers are coming to Southend.

The lovable duo will be appearing at the Cliffs Pavilion on March 22, 2019, as part of their latest UK tour.

National treasures Si King and Dave Myers are best known for hosting the part-cooking part-travelogue BBC show, The Hairy Biker's Cookbook.

With their irresistible enthusiasm, An Evening With The Hairy Bikers will be an epic night of cooking and conversation.

Big hearted, down-to-earth cooks with a love of good food, Si and Dave have been cooking together for more than 20 years.

They have created haute cuisine dishes with Michelin-starred chefs and travelled the world in the pursuit of great food.

They have also explored the length and breadth of the British Isles to discover new recipes and create their own fresh takes on cooking classics.

The pair sat down in conversation prior to their 36 date tour.

Interestingly, they have an innovative approach to tackling the epidemic of audiences using their phones during a performance.

"You get fed up of people having their phones out in the theatre. This time we'll encourage them," Dave said.

"What we're hoping will happen is – we're still figuring out how – we've got a stage man regulating stuff on stage, and there'll be a screen.

"We have some clips to show if they're relevant.

"He'll be able to take any kind of Facebook or Twitter messages coming in and put them on the screen so we'll be interactive with the audience."

A couple of lucky audience members will also be fed on the night.

"There'll be two people we'll pick and cook and feed them for the second half," Dave revealed.

"There's a kitchen table in the corner. There'll be a few daft songs. It's round to our house for a really cosy night but no evening is the same."

Si added: "What Dave and I love most of all is that interaction, breaking that boundary between the stage and the audience."

The show, designed to feel like a cheery evening at a friend's dinner party, suits the Dave and Si's laid-back demeanour.

"It's 'round our house' this one so it might be appropriate to have a glass of beer while we're doing it to wet our throbbles," Dave joked.

"It's always nice to have a bottle of beer," Si concurred.

Although, the pair are wary of having too much to drink at a show. Claiming on a previous tour they got a but "carried away" with a bottle of Montrachet at a show in Manchester.

"We drank the bottle of Montrachet in the interval, felt fabulous, went on the second half. The worst thing you can do in this theatre is go over," Dave explained.

"We said to the tour manager: 'How was it? It felt great.' They went: 'You overrun by 20 minutes. It was all a bit blah, blah, blah.' So we cut that out."

KILLER QUEEN

FRONTMAN: Rami Malek as Freddie Mercury

BOHEMIAN RHAPSODY (12A, 130 mins)

AFTER almost 10 years in the making, Rami Malek is hotly tipped for awards consideration for his portrayal of Freddie Mercury in the long-awaited musical biopic, which charts the rise of rock band Queen.

Scripted by Anthony McCarten, who earned Oscar nominations for his screenplays for The Theory Of Everything and Darkest Hour, Bohemian Rhapsody meets lead guitarist Brian May (Gwilym Lee), drummer Roger Taylor (Ben Hardy) and bassist John Deacon (Joseph Mazzello) as they hunt for a new lead singer.

Flamboyant showman Freddie Mercury (Malek) seizes his moment in the spotlight, becoming one of the greatest of all rock frontmen and inspiring the band to think outside the box with the operatic title song.

Flanked by his lifelong companion Mary Austin (Lucy Boynton) and personal manager Paul Prenter (Allen Leech), Freddie creates one of the defining images of Live Aid in 1985 and struggles to keep his Aids diagnosis a secret.

Bryan Singer is credited as director, although he was actually removed from the project before the completion of this troubled production which had already seen Sacha Baron Cohen walk away from the starring role before filming began.

Dexter Fletcher, who had originally been announced as the film's director before himself dropping out in 2013 over creative differences, was brought in to finish off the remaining scenes.

GAMING

By Ben Catley-Richardson

Adventure of a lifetime

Title: Assassin's Creed Odyssey
Platform: PC, Xbox One, PS4
Genre: Action
Price: £44.99

ASSASSIN'S Creed has come so far that Odyssey's ancient Greek heroes – siblings Cassandra and Alexios – aren't even assassins.

Yet ironically enough, this is the best the leaping, stabbing, conspiracy-fuelling series has ever been.

The Greek terrain, hilly and sun-kissed and surrounded by glinting seas, is even more gorgeous than the Egyptian wonders of AC: Origins, and a ridiculously huge array of islands await.

Battlefield-set Conflict events and rival mercenaries tracking you down bring fresh verve to the action, while a superb array of unlockable abilities enable a personalised approach to the fluid and challenging combat.

Odyssey is huge, perhaps overwhelmingly so, but the rewards are immense. Reviewed on Asus ROG G703GI (i7, 16GB, GTX1080, asus.com/uk/ROG-Republic-Of-Gamers)

Skip to the end: An expansive, exciting romp through the magic of ancient Greece.

Score: 9/10

Title: Into The Breach
Platform: Switch

Assassin's Creed Odyssey

Genre: Strategy
Price: £11.99

Into the Breach squeezes together the mech-vs-behemoth action of Pacific Rim and the pixel-cute strategy fun of the Advance Wars series.

You command three giant machines protecting the last of humanity from insect-like monsters called the Vek over turn-based battles, where your aim is simply to survive while balancing demands. Protect buildings to keep your mech's power running, protect your mechs so you can fight future missions, and complete objectives to gain upgrades.

Brute force is never a useful option, and instead each skirmish is more of a violent puzzle, where shrewd manoeuvres can disrupt enemy attacks or even force them to kill one another.

Into The Breach's small scale is limiting, but the action is always gripping.

Skip to the end: Complex and compelling, although the pint-sized warzones lack variety.

Score: 8/10

Scenic and Koleos take it easy

By David Whinyates

LIFE is about to get easier for buyers interested in the Renault Scenic, Grand Scenic and Koleos models as the French maker simplifies the number of available trim and power options.

In an extension of the EasyLife initiative first seen on the Clio, Captur and Mégane ranges, the number of variants on the Scenic and Grand Scenic has been reduced from four to three while only two variations on the Koleos theme will be available.

Entry level versions of the Scenic and Grand Scenic are badged as Play models – replacing the previous Expression+ – with mid-range models dubbed as Iconic and a high-spec Signature trim at the top of the range.

Koleos now has a two-trim line-up, starting with Iconic and progressing to GT Line.

The new Scenic and Grand Scenic Play models come with extra technology over the previous entry level versions including rear parking sensors and smartphone replication via Apple CarPlay and Android Auto.

The mid-point of the revised Scenic and Grand Scenic line-up is

FRENCH FLAIR: Renault has expanded its EasyLife version line-up to include the Scenic the Iconic trim, which is similar to the Dynamique Nav of the previous range and offers front and rear parking sensors, tinted windows, a sliding centre console which includes two USB ports, a 12V socket and AUX input for rear passengers and a seven inch touch screen with DAB radio and satnav plus smartphone functionality and voice control.

The top of the range Signature spec replaces the Dynamique S Nav and has a bigger touchscreen, panoramic sunroof and leather upholstery.

The EasyLife philosophy has also been applied to the choice of engines with just two power units on offer – a new 1.3-litre Energy TCe 140hp turbocharged petrol unit and a 120hp, 1.5 litre turbodiesel.

And the EasyLife concept will also be easier on buyers' pockets, for the starting prices of the new models have been cut to £21,390 for the Scenic and £23,190 for the Grand Scenic – reductions of £620.

Koleos buyers will also benefit from lower prices with the new range now starting at £27,495, a reduction of £550 compared to the previous line-up.

A long list of standard equipment makes up the Koleos Iconic.

This includes plenty of must-have technology including a rear parking camera with front and rear parking sensors, a blind spot warning system and climate control.

The Koleos GT Line bristles with equipment and comes with full LED headlights and leather upholstery with heated front seats.

The tailgate is automatic, while the colour touchscreen is 8.7-inches in size.

Both Koleos models are available in two or four-wheel drive with Renault's two-litre dCi 175hp diesel engine.

PUBLIC NOTICE

SOUTHEND-ON-SEA BOROUGH COUNCIL

SOUTHEND ON SEA BOROUGH COUNCIL AS LOCAL AUTHORITY

Permanent Admission Number for St Mary's Prittlewell CofE Primary School

Notice is hereby given in accordance with Section 19 (1) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 and the School Organisation (Prescribed Alterations to Maintained Schools) England) Regulations 2013 that Southend on Sea Borough Council, Civic Centre, Victoria Avenue, Southend on Sea, SS2 6ER propose to set the agreed admission number for St Mary's Prittlewell CofE Primary School, Boston Avenue, Southend on Sea, SS2 2BH at 90 from 1 September 2019 starting with the Reception intake and working up the school year on year. All other year group numbers will remain as currently published. This will set the total capacity of the school at 630 pupils.

In September 2013, St Mary's C of E Prittlewell Primary School agreed to expand on a temporary basis from 60 to 90 per year, for two years, starting from reception as part of the Southend Primary Expansion Plan resulting from a sharp increase in the birth rate.

In September 2015, St Mary's C of E Prittlewell Primary School agreed to expand further, along with six other primary schools, from 90 to 120 per year group for four years starting from the reception class and incrementing yearly.

Regulations require temporary expansions to last no longer than six years without formal consultation. St Mary's C of E Prittlewell Primary School had planned to return to their original admission number of 60 from September 2019. The school governing body have requested to set their admission number at a higher admission number of 90 on a permanent basis to meet demand for places.

The School and Governing Body have also agreed that, on a temporary basis only, the school would admit up to 120 in a pre-agreed year in the reception admission round only, should local demand require it.

This Notice is an extract from the complete proposals. Copies of the complete proposals are available on the SBC website or can be obtained from: School Development Manager, School Development Team, Southend Borough Council, Floor 5, Civic Centre, Victoria Ave, Southend on Sea, SS2 6ER. 01702 215000

Sending them in writing to June Edwards, School Development Team, Southend Borough Council, Floor 5, Civic Centre, Victoria Avenue, Southend on Sea, SS2 6ER.

Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed "Trade Advertisers", and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as "trade", "dealer", "agent", "wholesaler", "JT" etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;

(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or

(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers in the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but reasonable days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertiser will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified listings and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisement to be offered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(11) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole order in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be retained.

(12) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be retained. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for meeting the advertiser at this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the reliability of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. DERBY SPOILS GO TO SPURS

West Ham United 0
Tottenham Hotspur 1
ERIK Lamela provided the only goal of the game as Spurs edged out West Ham in a competitive but often scrappy London derby.

Ahead of what is always an eagerly anticipated clash, Hammers manager Manuel Pellegrini recognised the size of the task ahead, explaining: "They are one of the strongest teams in the Premier League."

Meanwhile, the respect was clearly mutual, with Spurs chief, Mauricio Pochettino, adding: "We're going to face a team that is in a very good shape, with a fantastic manager."

Marko Arnautovic almost gave Hammers fans something to shout about, firing low at Hugo Lloris, while Moussa Sissoko's speculative effort was deflected over as Spurs swiftly responded.

Issa Diop produced a timely challenge to prevent Harry Kane from handing Spurs the advantage, then Toby Alderweireld intervened after Robert Snodgrass fired goalwards.

But whilst the tempo to the match was high, the quality was lacking during a frenetic, scrappy, opening.

West Ham were dealt a blow when Andriy Yarmolenko was carried from the field, his place taken by Grady Diangana. But the Hammers' troubles deepened shortly before the break as Lamela's near-post glancing header from Sissoko's centre deceived Lukasz Fabianski, handing Spurs a precious lead.

Lloris twice brilliantly denied Arnautovic, firstly, diving full-length to tip over the Austrian's header, then turning aside his scuffed low drive as West Ham started the second period with greater intent.

There appeared to be a little fire in the bellies of the West Ham players, who were now snapping and snarling in a manner expected on such an occasion.

However, their steely approach continued to lack the flair and skill required to make an impact as both Noble and Arnautovic picked up cautions, while Michail Antonio appeared laboured after replacing Noble with 20 minutes remaining.

Javier Hernandez seemed to have made a difference, but his celebration was cut short as his close-range strike was ruled offside. In stoppage time, Lloris raced from his line to thwart Arnautovic, while Antonio blasted over as the Hammers' efforts to salvage the contest became more desperate.

But this proved to be another frustrating afternoon for the east Londoners, who were beaten for the sixth time this season.

As for Spurs, they maintained their best-ever start to a Premier League campaign.

After the game, Pellegrini said: "They created one chance and they scored – we had a couple and didn't. In the second 45 minutes, there was just one team in the game, us."

"We dominated, had the possession, created chances, played most of the game in their third, but in this game, you must score."

Spurs boss Pochettino was delighted to see his side pick up their seventh Premier League victory of the season.

"I thought in the first half we were better than West Ham," he said.

"An amazing victory for us and three points that keep us in a very good position."

Orient to miss out on FA Cup run

LEYTON Orient crashed out of the Emirates FA Cup at the fourth qualifying round stage after second-half goals from former Dagenham & Redbridge duo, Blair Turgott and Elliott Romain, ensured Maidstone United a place in the first round with the likes of Sunderland, Portsmouth and Coventry City.

The O's 2-0 defeat at the Gallacher Stadium highlighted a frustrating afternoon for the region's clubs in the cup. Braintree Town went down 4-2 at Barnet. David Tutonda and Jack Taylor handed the Bees a two-goal advantage, before Reece Grant and Lyle Della-Verde found the net to draw the Iron level. However, Elliott Johnson and Cheye Alexander ended Braintree's cup hopes as the north Londoners progressed.

Concord Rangers are also out after a stunning Inih Effiong free-kick saw Dover Athletic through in a keenly contested tie at the Aspect Arena.

Moses Emmanuel bagged a brace for Billericay Town, but the Blues face a replay after Andrew Neal and Matt Wright replied for Taunton Town at the AGP Arena.

Dagenham & Redbridge will also try again after an entertaining 2-2 draw of their own at Boreham Wood. Tomi Adedoye from the spot, and Luke Pennell helping the Daggers fight back in the closing stages after they had trailed 2-0.

In the National League South, East Thurrock United provided a dramatic finale to their clash with Hungerford Town at Rookery Hill. The visitors led going into stoppage-time thanks to a first-half strike from Danilo Orso-Dadomo.

But the Rocks' never-say-die attitude was apparent when Roman Michael-Percil levelled the scores, then Steve Sheehan won it with seconds to spare. Hungerford's misery was completed with the dismissal of Charlie ten-Grotenhuis.

In the Bostik League Premier Division AFC Hornchurch were beaten 2-0 by Tonbridge Angels at Bridge Avenue.

Bostik North leaders, Basildon United, were beaten 2-1 at second-placed Aveley on Friday evening. However, Bowers & Pitsea failed to make any significant progress on the top two after playing out a goalless draw with Maldon & Tiptree at the Len Salmon Stadium.

Matthew Price, Kreshnic Krasniqi and Harrison Chatting scored Heybridge Swifts' goals in a 3-1 win over Brentwood Town – Ryan Mallett with the visitors' consolation.

Great Waking Rovers picked up three points thanks to Billy Johnson and Marcus Bowers finding the net in a 2-1 win over Witham Town.

Dennis Oli and a Joao Carlos penalty helped Grays Athletic to a 2-1 win at Soham Town Rangers, while a Lewis Smith brace (one from the spot) earned Tilbury a share of the spoils from their clash with Felixstowe & Walton United.

Coggeshall Town and Canvey Island produced the early fireworks with a thrilling 3-3 draw at West Street. Sam Bantick scored twice, while Nnamdi Nwachuku was also on target for the home side. Frankie Merrifield, Martin Tuohy and Sam Collins with the Gulls' response.

Daniel Cheema scored Barking's goal in a 1-1 draw at AFC Sudbury, while Romford went down by a goal to nil at Dereham Town.

Stansted certainly took off in the Essex Senior League as the Airportmen hit five without reply past Leyton Athletic.

Walthamstow eased past an out of sorts Southend Manor, winning by two unanswered goals at Wadham Lodge, while Takeley were also 2-0 winners, seeing off hosts Ilford at the Cricklefield Stadium.

St Margaretsbury and Saffron Walden Town both won 2-1 on the road at Redbridge and Woodford Town respectively, while Stanway Rovers won by the same scoreline as Hullbridge Sports left empty-handed.

Elsewhere, Tower Hamlets and West Essex played out a thrilling 2-2 draw, while Hoddesdon Town drew 1-1 with Barkingside.

Ten-man Blues fall foul of last-gasp strike

Southend United 1
Coventry City 2
Sky Bet League One

By Rowland Lyons at Roots Hall
CHRIS Powell's Shrimpers were abruptly halted in their tracks after Michael Turner put through his own goal to give the improving Sky Blues a third successive victory.

Supersub Tom Hopper had cancelled out Jordy Hiwula's early opener, before Simon Cox was dismissed for a second yellow card. Powell criticised his players saying: "We warned them about complacency, and we were third best in the first-half which cost us."

Southend made a bright start, with Timothee Dieng twice going close before enjoying a lucky escape, when Tom Davies's sixth minute header appeared to have crossed Mark Oxley's line, only for the assistant not to flag for the goal. Coventry finally got their goal on 20 minutes when another Doyle corner saw former Southend loanee Johnson Clarke-Harris nod down for Hiwula to beat Oxley on the turn from inside the six-yard box.

The visitors continued to ask all the questions, with Conor Chaplin hitting a dipping half-volley inches over, before Taylor Moore had to be at his best to deny Clarke-Harris.

Southend, kicking towards their "unlucky" north stand, failed to trouble the Sky Blues' defence, Stephen Hendrie sending a 38th minute daisy-cutter well wide.

Despite a half-time formation change with Harry Bunn replacing Ben Coker, Southend were still pegged back with Luke Thomas forcing Oxley into an excellent 51st minute stop.

It what had never been a dirty game, the match reached boiling point, on 58 minutes, when Coventry's Davies escaped with a yellow card for a sickening challenge on Blues' skipper, Sam Mantom, who required prolonged treatment.

Having seen sub Bunn go close with a speculative 66th minute effort, fellow replacement, Hopper, on for the ineffective Robinson, levelled barely two minutes later with a fine, left-footed low drive, past a flat-footed Lee Burge from Simon Cox's up and under.

The hosts were down to 10 men when Cox was given a second caution for a late challenge on Davies. Despite their numerical superiority, Coventry took time to adjust, but almost retook the lead with eight minutes remaining with sub Jordan Shipley forcing Oxley into a smart tip-over.

With Southend hanging on for the point, Jones's curling 92nd minute effort was deflected home by the unfortunate Turner.

A late goalmouth scramble saw

Hendrie blaze over, to leave Powell admitting: "We were a bit better in the second-half and Tom Hooper's goal gave us a lift. But, the goal at the end just shows how our luck is going at home."

Southend hitman Hopper added: "Hopefully, this defeat is just a blip. But, we don't get too high when we win, nor too low when we lose."

Southend United: Mark Oxley, Elvis Bwomongo, Michael Turner, Stephen Hendrie, Taylor Moore, Ben Coker (Harry Bunn 46), Dru Yearwood, Sam Mantom (capt) (Jason Demetriou 78), Timothy Dieng, Simon Cox, Theo Robinson. Subs: Nathan Bishop, Stephen McLaughlin, Harry Lennon, Shawn McCoulsky.
